

An Interview with Beverly: Hosted by Kate Sheehan Roach from The Contemplative Journal

Date : September 25, 2015

“It is our sacred duty to forge a global spirituality that is socially responsible and profoundly merciful.”

–Beverly Lanzetta

Listen to Kate Sheehan Roach’s insightful questions about Beverly’s work, her theology and her latest book, Nine Jewels of Night. They discuss Beverly’s writing, her experience of God breaking into her life, her incredible revelation and reaction to that revelation by living a life of solitude and contemplation, despite having a prolific career and four children, which co-participates with God and aspires to reach the highest good.
