
Heart of Silence

Date : July 12, 2017

Practice

Nicholas Roerich, Land of Snow People

WE ARE BORN with a heart of silence, nurtured by the vast cosmic solitude. The language of the gods, silence speaks without sound and teaches without word. In the depth of each being, silence connects, sustains, and imbues all things with its holy spark. Children of its mother womb, the entire creation intones the eternal language. No matter how far we stray or how long we live, we are never separate from our source: Silence.

Excerpt, "Heart of Silence," Beverly Lanzetta (c) 2017

BEVERLY LANZETTA © 2017. All rights reserved.